USDA Boosts Specialty Crop Grants to $275M, But $1B in Crisis Relief Remains Out of Reach

While the USDA begins rolling out long-awaited specialty crop grants, National Potato Council CEO Kam Quarles warns that the $1 billion in emergency relief for the industry remains stuck in neutral, leaving farmers waiting on urgently needed relief that has yet to arrive.

Earlier this week, USDA announced the availability of over $275 million in grant funding in fiscal year 2026 for the specialty crop industry through the Specialty Crop Research Initiative, the Specialty Crop Block Grant Program and the Specialty Crop Multi-State Program.

Crediting the Working Families Tax Cuts Act, USDA will provide $175 million per year for SCRI, more than double the previous amount of $80 million per year. It also increased the total funding available for SCBGP and SCMP from $85 million per year to $100 million per year starting in fiscal year 2026.

And while specialty crops welcome the grant funding, the industry is still awaiting payments from the $1 billion to support the specialty crop industry through the Assistance for Specialty Crop Farmers program announced earlier this year.
